

For obvious purposes of membership recruitment, the group in Newington would like to think it is solely responsible for the revision of the Rules now taking effect to the benefit of the greater Amateur community.

However, the logic behind its old Petition for RuleMaking from 2002 (RM-10413) has long been eclipsed by other operating and regulatory developments that the FCC has wisely taken into account in making its final Report and Order.

The ARRL fails to update its thinking and address the following factors in the Petition for Reconsideration hastily filed more than four years later:
